Bluenotes Europe

This presentation was to be a short presentation delivered in March 2020 in Glasgow, Scotland – but sadly had to be cancelled

Please note therefore that this will not take 40 minutes unless you ask questions :0)

Contents

---

- ❖ Using Question Bank and Question Bank mapping with the Institutional Hierarchy
- ❖ How we collected data to populate the Question Bank
- ❖ Our findings at the end of the first year
- ❖ Trying to replicate the above in subsequent years
- ❖ Added complexity with Institution Changing requirements
- ❖ Finding a solution

The start of our Journey: Requirements

---

University Executive gave requirements of what question framework would be implemented at Durham

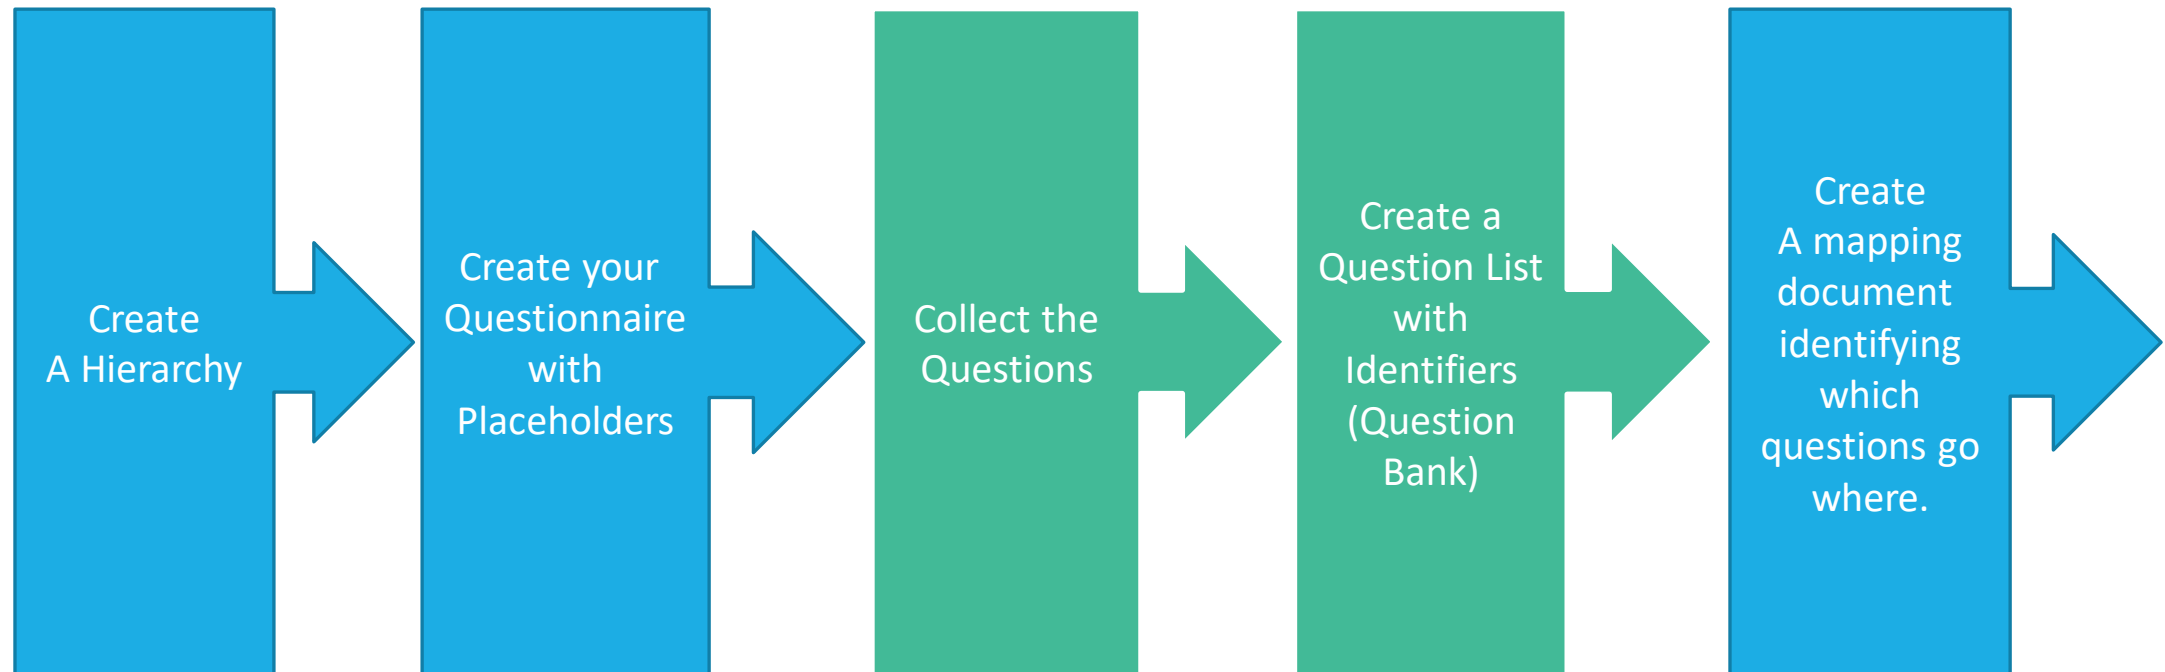

1. Institutional Core questions
2. Departmental Core questions
3. Optional Course/Module questions etc

Also requirements on rating of teaching staff using multiple roles – but that's another story

The Flow

---

This is my process ....

Cascaded Model/Institutional Hierarchy

Question Bank

---

- ❖ Created 26 individual departmental spreadsheets
- ❖ Listed all the Course/Module Codes and Names
- ❖ Departments choose 3 core questions from a drop down list of 8
- ❖ These 8 questions are National Student Survey questions
- ❖ Then write 3 questions per course/module (if they want them)
- ❖ Only Likert scale questions permitted
- ❖ No Question Personalisation

Question Bank

---

- ❖ I have to collate all the spreadsheets together (26 Departments) and create two spreadsheets
- ❖ This pulled 2107 questions
  - ❖ A Question Bank file
  - ❖ A Question Mapping file
- ❖ We use these two files along with the Institutional Hierarchy
- ❖ With 2107 questions this was a large question bank.

Success Criteria

---

The Question Bank worked

Questions pulled into the right modules in the correct places

Apart from:

The department that added an extra line in the spreadsheet so when pulled in produced the question "Please choose one of the following questions"

And the department that chose the same Department Questions and Module questions duplicating them all.

These were spotted and corrected quickly

Process Review

---

In reviewing how Blue works we come up with a list of things to review

1. To review Data Sync from spreadsheets to automated system
2. To find a system to collect questions
3. To review how to find out who teaches what
4. Need a system to determine when evaluations are to be run

I am now going to concentrate on “To find a system to collect questions”

Updated Criteria

---

1. System to provide the DIG Admins with the choices chosen in the previous year so they don't have to duplicate effort
2. Provide one system for them to do this in.
3. Collect questions for Department and for individual Module
4. Update the spreadsheets to show this year's modules and remove modules no longer running
5. Faculties/Schools now split from 3 into 4 and 1 department split into 3 – with new course codes that map to older course codes

Can we use DIG?

- ❖ Could we automate this in DIG?
- ❖ DIG is all about checking data
- ❖ If we could feed the questions into DIG
- ❖ Ask the DIG Admins to choose questions at that point from a list

- ❖ Can you add questions to the Courses file as a demographic relationship
- ❖ Produce a relationship with CourseID and PlaceholderID

DIG Data Rule Editor

In 2019 at Bluenotes Global in Chicago - Lisa Emery from Michigan demonstrated how they used

The “Data Rule Editor” within DIG to collect data

I looked at putting the list of question options into the Selection List

Repeating for the three questions.

The screenshot shows a window titled "Data Rule Editor" with a close button in the top right corner. The main content area is titled "Data Rule Editor" and contains several configuration options:

- Type: Record (dropdown menu)
- Subject: Course (dropdown menu)
- Field: Placeholder_Q5 (dropdown menu)
- Condition: List (dropdown menu)
- Selection List: A text area containing the following text:
  - Staff are good at explaining things
  - Staff have made the subject interesting
  - The module is intellectually stimulating
  - Marking and assessment has been fair
  - Feedback on my work has been timelyBelow the text area is a note: "(Enter one item per line. Duplicates will be removed.)"

At the bottom of the window are two buttons: "Apply" and "Cancel".

DIG Pros and Cons

PROS

Simplifies the process for end users

Everything in one data checking place

CONS

Have to replicate the List for each question

Does not allow only one selection in the three questions so you could repeat

Does not display previous choice

Works on a module basis so for Department Core you would have to set this for every module

Can't independently produce new questions and edit questions

Question Personalisation

Why we haven't used because it seems to be focused on Teaching staff selections

Most institutions create a list of Core questions for every module and give teachers access to Question Personalisation to choose additional questions

With my hierarchy we had to make it more complicated by having different levels

Institution (Core), Departmental (Core but 3 chosen from a list), Module (Optional 3 questions)

We considered using QP but would have to do two projects – one for Department level and one for Module level questions and combine the results together

Seemed like a lot of extra effort and time needed plus it would not show last years selected questions.

Previous Questions

Looking to show what was chosen the previous year

Question Personalisation would not do this

DIG would not do this

Staff do have access the individual reports but this is time consuming to go and check each report

Sending out the individual spreadsheets back out would do this

Export of Question Bank only showed the question identifier in the placeholder

BUT

7.17 Update on 18 August – will produce an export of the questions. I have not seen this but hopefully this MIGHT be able to be sent to the DIG Admins

Revisiting the Questions in 2020

- ❖ In looking at the number of questions in 2019 Undergraduate
- ❖ My question bank had 2107 questions
- ❖ By removing duplicates I removed 2004 questions
- ❖ Leaving 103 questions
- ❖ If we look at the questions left – many were variations on the same question
- ❖ If choices are to be made then perhaps a selectable list might be a better option
- ❖ This asks the question do we need to use the Question Bank and what options are left?

Questions

3 Department questions are chosen from NSS additional question list of 8

3 Module questions – supposed to be whatever questions they want

The following shows the results for 26 Departments/Schools

Any new questions written referred to: Resources, Tutorials or Dissertation Supervision

We have a plan

---

Thanks to a really useful EMEA Explorance Blue User Group Monthly meeting I gained some ideas ...

I started to rethink if I could do things differently

How could I remove the requirement constraints

How could I make things simpler

How could I ensure that time is not wasted

And yes still achieve success

Thanks Matt Claridge!!!!

Recommendation 1

---

Remove the requirement for choosing 3 Departmental Core questions from a list of 8

Build a spreadsheet block incorporating all 8 questions and use them on all modules

Benefits

Removes the need to pick from a list and remember what you chose the previous year

More data for comparison (that's surely a win win scenario)

Spreadsheet grid questions seem shorter than individual questions

Recommendation 2

---

Build a Question Personalisation project for any additional individual Module questions

Produce Placeholder questions in questionnaire

Build a Question list for each question

Send to DIG Admins to allocate questions per module

Benefits:

No spreadsheets

Ties it to only one person (with a backup to cover absence)

Less effort on the Blue Admin side

* students will be given the opportunity to rate any or all teaching staff on a module (students will be able to choose which staff they rate, with "n/a" as an option).

~ students will be asked to select their supervisor from a drop-down list, and then rate that supervisor AND offer free text comments

In Conclusion: Future of Question Bank

---

If question personalisation allows DIG Admins to choose the questions and they are incorporated into the questionnaire automatically

Because I only have less than 120 questions

Perhaps the streamlining of the questionnaire and the addition of adding a QP option would remove the need for using the Question Bank – as good as it has been.

I would like to see this piloted this as an option and see the results and do a further comparison between Question Bank and the above option.

Watch this space in the future for determining the outcome.
